

Care about the environment? We do too!

- The Government sponsored Stern Review on climate change judged that aviation accounted for 1.6% of global greenhouse gas emissions. That sounds small, but we are not complacent
- Last year, we removed 22 older generation aircraft at a cost of more than £275 million as part of our drive to reduce emissions
- We fly more passengers per plane than a traditional airline, which helps us to achieve 27% lower emissions per passenger kilometre

This is just the beginning.
We are determined to do more.
